My Dear Sister

My most sincere congratulations on your 51st birthday. You look as young as most women at 40 so you have that to be thankful for. I often think you have had a struggle raising your family but also think there are few women who have so much to be thankful for as you have. First of all and the greatest of all you got a good husband. I think there are few like him and he got a good wife for you pulled together and that is why things are as they are. There are few men who realize when they get a good wife also few women who appreciate a good husband. You are the exceptions. I mean all I say. I often speak of you both to my friends saying I am so thankful of the match my only sister made. The next great thing you raised a fine family of children. I think your family all through is an unusual exception. I trust you and Joe live many years to enjoy the fruits of the good example you set your children and I know if they follow the advice of their mother they will always be on the right side. I am very sincere in what I am saying - mean every word of it. Ever since I grew up I was very proud of My Sister - may not have shown it but felt it and spoke of it outside. Annie's mother often said I would find it hard to tell which I thought most of my wife or sister and said she knew I would be a good husband as I had so much feeling for my sister. So you see if I did not show it I felt it. Again wishing you all the blessings of a good long happy life,

I am as ever,

Your Brother,

Henry

1. I have enlisted a recruit by the name of John Loeffler who has on four or five other occasions tried to join the Regiment. I was informed to-day that he had passed the Medical Examination and is to be sworn in Sunday. I would appreciate it very much if you would assign him to "T" company since that has been the company he has always expressed the desire to join.
