

Health History

Alzheimers

In the Sven and Lotten Wiberg family it is assumed that they and two of their sons had Alzheimers.

In the Hugo William Wiberg and Mary Loeffler Wiberg family two sons have died of Alzheimers - one in 1999 and another in 2007. One of Hugo and Mary's children has a history of Alzheimers on both sides of their family.

Diabetes

Hugo William Wiberg and Mary Loeffler Wiberg had, and four of their children currently (2007) have, type two diabetes.

There is currently one confirmed case of diabetes in the Kaleb Wiberg family.

Mary Loeffler Wiberg's mother, Mary Conrad Loeffler, also had diabetes.

Sven and Lotten Wiberg's Families

Lotten's sister Augusta suffered from asthma and complications thereof.

Lotten's niece Greta had thyroid problems.

Lotten's brother Gustav Emil Magnusson's family had and have a history of high bloodpressure, blood clots, and strokes.

Sven Wiberg's relative, Torwald Akesson, died at age 73 due to a heart attack and his brother Allan died at age 73 due to diabetes.

